

Entrepreneurship: Nurturing Self-Reliance

The department of political science, J.D.S.G.College has organized a National Webinar on “Entrepreneurship: Nurturing Self-Reliance” on the 28th July, 2021. Dr. Aradhana Borthakur, Assistant Prof., Centre for Management Studies, Dibrugarh University has participated as the Resource Person in this seminar and Mr. Sasanka Dhabal Saikia of this college has coordinated the seminar. In the seminar, the role of entrepreneurship in attaining reliance goal without depending much on or waiting much for a public job has been analyzed in details considering the present context of massive unemployment problem in the state of Assam and in the country. Particularly, the students of management and commerce can make a good career by taking suitable knowledge and training on some emerging and demanding areas for gainful employment. The resource person has pointed out a number of areas for developing entrepreneurial activities in our state. She has identified some areas yet untapped in our state, and suggested government intervention on it. In addition to financial support from institutions, the zeal towards such activities is a primary requisite for undertaking a venture. For it, comprehensive motivational programme need to be developed on the part of the government.